Testimonials

Donna spoke at a recent networking event I attended. I loved her message, bought her book and signed up for a coaching call. The hour I spent with Donna was more than productive. I have a list of takeaways that I can't wait to implement. Donna was able to drill down to the message I need to be conveying and the action steps I need to take in a very short amount of time. She is amazing!

Jackie Mack, VP of Sales/Broker Associate at Jameson Sotheby's International Real Estate

I absolutely love the clarity that DSB brings! She has the ability to sit back and analyze what it is that is missing, that is causing an entrepreneur or a company to miss the mark in their sales goals. She provides an innovative perspective and approach towards your sales pitch and will open your eyes to ways of packaging your products/services that will add value to them.

Jordan Nichols, Founder & Chief Facilitator at Black History Enterprises

Donna has great ideas for business development and sales. She promotes accountability, but more than that she has a very methodical method in her coaching which is designed to create the greatest business value, in sales and relationship building for the least amount of effort.

Christina Canright, Canright Communications

Donna has been showcased by multiple media outlets including:

"In Corporate America, I helped companies make a lot of money, but like so many others, I found myself totally miserable in that environment. Now, I help people learn what I had to learn – how to clarify what is needed to build an enjoyable and profitable career, whether as a business owner, an employee, or some combination of the two. Everyone wants to be valued, appreciated and respected, but there are specific things that you must do to get there."
